Hi! I grew up in western Michigan (the Lower Peninsula) but have lived in the Mac-Groveland neighborhood in St. Paul for over 20 years. I received a bachelor's degree in psychology and English from Albion College in Michigan and then earned a law degree from Hamline University. After working as a lawyer developing electronic legal resources at the former West Publishing Company (now Thomson Reuters) for 17 years, I decided to leave the corporate world and pursue my interest in working with kids. I earned my M.S.E. (2006) and Ed.S. (2009) degrees in school psychology from the University of Wisconsin - River Falls. Before coming here, I worked as a school psychologist for two years in South St. Paul and as a long-term sub for most of a year in Burnsville. In my spare time, I like to spend time with friends, family, and my menagerie (a large, bouncy dog and 3 cats) of rescued animals. I also like to walk, swim, kayak, travel, read, and follow the Gopher women's basketball team. I am looking forward to working with the students, staff and families in the St. Anthony - New Brighton School District this year.
